About Phoebe Putney Health System

PPHS is a not-for-profit healthcare delivery system based in Albany, GA that serves a population of more than 800,000 residents in 42 counties throughout southwest Georgia. With more than 5,500 employees, the system is the region's largest employer and includes four hospital campuses and a physician group that employs more than 350 physicians and advanced practice providers who work in nearly four dozen primary care, urgent care and specialty care clinics.

In March 2024, Phoebe's flagship hospital earned designation as a Level II Trauma Center – one of only two such centers in Georgia south of Atlanta. Phoebe's facilities, advanced medical technologies and treatments, training programs, and highly-qualified professionals distinguish the system as a healthcare leader and the region's most comprehensive health system.

As a leader in healthcare workforce development, Phoebe has strong partnerships with numerous academic institutions and is home to the Medical College of Georgia Southwest Clinical Campus and the University of Georgia Southwest Georgia Pharmacy Program. In August 2024, on its main campus, Phoebe opened the Phoebe Living & Learning Community that serves as the new home of an expanded Albany Technical College nursing program and includes 80 apartments for students.
